PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY PRITZKER SCHOOL OF LAW, BLUHM LEGAL CLINIC

Co-Director, Center on Wrongful Convictions, 2019-Present
Director, Center on Wrongful Convictions of Youth, 2009-2018

Clinical Professor of Law, 2020-present
Clinical Associate Professor, 2018-2020
Clinical Assistant Professor, 2013-2018
Clinical Fellow, 2009-2013

My responsibilities include directing the Center's research, mission and work; producing and promoting interdisciplinary scholarship around Fifth Amendment doctrine and the problem of false confessions; representing wrongfully convicted adults and children; and co-teaching a clinical course on wrongful convictions. My research, courtroom work, and classroom work focus on police interrogations and confessions.

I maintain an ongoing caseload of federal and state appellate and post-conviction cases involving individuals who were convicted as children or adolescents. The majority of my clients' cases involve confessions. In addition to my direct representation work, I conduct research and publish scholarship around Fifth Amendment doctrine and interrogative practice; I consult on and write amicus curiae briefs in cases involving interrogations and juvenile justice across the country, including before the United States Supreme Court; I speak regularly before a wide range of professional and popular audiences about wrongful convictions and false confessions; and I undertake collaborative efforts with law enforcement in support of interrogation reform. I also regularly appear as an expert on interrogations in print, film, audio, and digital media outlets that range from Netflix's Making a Murderer to the New York Times.

In my role as Director of the Center on Wrongful Convictions of Youth, I helped develop the first organization in the world that focused exclusively on wrongfully convicted teenagers and children. Since the Center's inception, I helped raise over $1,500,000 in support of the Center. That organization is now continuing under the auspices of the Center on Wrongful Convictions.

I also write and co-host Wrongful Convictions: False Confessions, a podcast produced by Lava Media that tells real stories of false confessions. Our podcast reached the #3 spot on the U.S.

Apple overall podcast charts and #1 on the U.S. Apple true crime podcast charts and has been nominated for a Webby Award.

SIDLEY AUSTIN LLP, Chicago, IL
Associate, 2008-2009

SELECTED LITIGATION

Dassey v. Dittmann*, 17-1172 (United States Supreme Court, 2018)

Co-lead counsel, with former United States Solicitor General, in federal habeas action involving sixteen-year-old who confessed to rape-murder during police interrogation in globally high-profile case.

State v. Andersen*, 80-CR-1405 (Circuit Court of Cook County, Illinois, 2015)

Co-counsel in post-conviction action involving a nineteen-year-old who falsely confessed to murder.

Yates v. County of St. Clair et al.*, 14-CV-00934 (U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Illinois, 2015)

Co-counsel in civil rights action on behalf of seventeen-year-old who falsely confessed to armed robbery during police interrogation.

State v. Villegas*, No. 94 ODO 9328 (Texas Court of Criminal Appeals, 2013)

Co-counsel in post-conviction action and retrial involving sixteen-year-old who falsely confessed to double murder.

Newman v. Gaetz*, No. 08 CV 4240 (U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois, 2012) (affirmed, Newman v. Harrington, 726 F.3d 921 (7th Cir. 2013))

Co-counsel in federal habeas corpus action and in subsequent retrial involving a sixteen-year-old charged with murder.

People v. Taylor et al.*, 92 CR 27247 & 95 CR 23475 (Circuit Court of Cook County, Illinois, 2011) (“Dixmoor Five”)

Co-counsel in post-conviction action involving five convicted teenagers, three of whom had falsely confessed to rape-murder during police interrogation.

J.D.B. v. North Carolina*, 131 S.Ct. 2394 (United States Supreme Court, 2011)

Counsel amicus curiae on behalf of the Center on Wrongful Convictions of Youth in support of juvenile defendant J.D.B. The majority opinion (Sotomayor, J.) held that a child’s age must be considered as part of the Miranda custody calculus and cited to the Center’s amicus brief to find that the risk of false confession is “all the more troubling...[and] all the more acute” when the suspect is a juvenile.

Echols v. State*, No. CR08-1493 (Arkansas State Court, 2011)

Co-counsel on behalf of alleged ringleader of the “West Memphis Three,” who was sentenced to death in internationally-known triple murder case.

In re T.C., 09-1128 (Arkansas Supreme Court, 2010)
Counsel amicus curiae in support of twelve-year-old defendant T.C.
